MARRIAGE CASES, IN RE

Supplemental briefing ordered:

Reply briefs on the merits in these consolidated cases are due on or before July 5, 2007. In addition to any reply brief that a party may choose to file, the court requests each party to file, on or before July 18, 2007, a supplemental brief addressing the following questions:

1. What differences in legal rights or benefits and legal obligations or duties exist under current California law affecting those couples who are registered domestic partners as compared to those couples who are legally married spouses? Please list all of the current differences of which you are aware.
2. What, if any, are the minimum, constitutionally-guaranteed substantive attributes or rights that are embodied within the fundamental constitutional “right to marry” that is referred to in cases such as Perez v. Sharp (1948) 32 Cal.2d 711, 713-714? In other words, what set of substantive rights and/or obligations, if any, does a married couple possess that, because of their constitutionally protected status under the state Constitution, may not (in the absence of a compelling interest) be eliminated or abrogated by the Legislature, or by the people through the initiative process, without amending the California Constitution?
3. Do the terms “marriage” or “marry” themselves have constitutional significance under the California Constitution? Could the Legislature, consistent with the California Constitution, change the name of the legal relationship of “marriage” to some other name, assuming the legislation preserved all of the rights and obligations that are now associated with marriage?
4. Should Family Code section 308.5 - which provides that “[o]nly marriage between a man and a woman is valid or recognized in California” - be interpreted to prohibit only the recognition in California of same-sex marriages that are entered into in another state or country or does the provision also apply to and prohibit same-sex marriages entered into within California? Under the Full Faith and Credit Clause and the Privileges and Immunities Clause of the federal Constitution (U.S. Const., art. IV, §§ 1, 2, cl.1), could California recognize same-sex marriages that are entered into within California but deny such recognition to same-sex marriages that are entered into in another state? Do these federal constitutional provisions affect how Family Code section 308.5 should be interpreted? The court notes that its request that the parties brief these matters does not necessarily signify that the court will address these points in its opinion. As indicated above, the supplemental briefs addressing these issues are to be served and filed simultaneously by the parties on or before July 18, 2007. The parties may serve and file simultaneous supplemental reply briefs, addressed solely to these questions, on or before August 1, 2007. Because of the nature and number of the questions to be addressed, the limitation on the permissible length of supplemental briefs set forth in California Rules of Court, rule 8.520(d)(2), do not apply to the requested supplemental briefs.

Referee appointed.

THE COURT:

Based on the record in this matter and good cause appearing:

THE HONORABLE MARY ANN O'MALLEY, Judge of the Superior Court of California, County of Contra Costa, is appointed to sit as a referee in this proceeding. She is directed to take evidence and make findings of fact on the following questions regarding the case of People v. David Esco Welch (Alameda County Superior Court No. SC90396, Stanley Golde, Judge; People v. Welch (1999))

20 Cal.4th 701):

1. During petitioner's trial, did the bailiff engage in improper communications with any of the jurors that exposed them to information prejudicial to petitioner? If so, what were those communications?
 2. Did trial counsel adequately investigate potential evidence in mitigation during the penalty phase that petitioner had been the victim of serious child abuse? If trial counsel's investigation was inadequate, what additional information would an adequate investigation have disclosed?
 3. If an adequate investigation would have yielded evidence that petitioner suffered serious child abuse, would a reasonably competent attorney have introduced such evidence at the penalty phase of the trial? What rebuttal evidence reasonably would have been available to the prosecution?
- The referee is directed to prepare and submit to this court a report of the proceedings conducted pursuant to this appointment, of the evidence adduced, and the findings of fact made. All requests for discovery should be addressed to the referee.
